

Psychiatry for GPs study session

Wednesday 31 October 2018

13:00 (registration from 12:30)—17:00

Kassam Stadium, Oxford, OX4 4XP

About this session:

A half-day session for GPs focused on acute psychiatry presentations in a primary care setting.

The sessions will feature short talks from expert speakers and will focus on presentations encountered regularly by GPs. It will also include further training opportunities and resources to use in clinical practice.

The event has incorporated feedback from previous events and includes the topics below as requested by the GPs who attended.

- Autism—different issues for Children and Young People and Adults
- Personality Disorder
- IAPT for Long-Term Conditions
- CAMHS Service Update
- And more to be announced!

Join GP colleagues to hear from expert speakers and join the discussion. Places are likely to fill up fast so please register today at the following link:
